

SECOND PACIFIC SQUADRON

MAY HAVE TROUBLE IN COALING

The Japanese Have Been Kept Before Port Arthur
And the Capitulation of the Fortress Would Not Come as a Surprise.

Paris, November 12th.—Japanese Minister Dr. Motono had a lengthy conference with Foreign Minister Delcasse to-day relating to the observance of neutrality, particularly in regard to coaling the Russian Second Pacific Squadron at Madagascar and other French possessions. It is understood that a satisfactory understanding was reached.

Suez, Egypt.—Reports confirming the previous announcement from Port Said shortly after the arrival of the Russian consul there state that owing to prevalent rumors that an attempt may be made to wreck the vessels of the Russian Pacific Squadron while passing through the company is taking stringent precautions against blocking.

St. Petersburg, November 12th.—The corrected casualty list of the ten days' battle of the Shalke river was issued by the war office. It places the total killed or wounded at 23,250 of which 900 were officers. The first returns, it is explained, contained duplications and some of the men were so slightly wounded that they returned to the ranks in a few days.

Mukden, November 11, via Tientsin November 12.—During the bombardment last night the Russians threw sixty large shells into the Japanese camp opposite Manaia Hill. The Japanese who during the previous cannonade seemed to have successfully used a searchlight directed against the Russian positions, for the purpose of covering their operation at night on the extension of their field works in the region of the railway did not reply last night when the Russians attacked them further to the east. The Japs are notably economic in the use of ammunition as though anticipating an early battle when great quantities will become necessary. It is known that the Japanese have placed guns of large calibre in the vicinity of the Shalke railway station bringing Shantung the next station to the north within the range of fire.

Great precautions are being taken by the Russians. Their continued vigilance and disposition of their forces would seem to guarantee this army against a repetition of disasters of enormous magnitude. Demolition of the Chinese forts appears to continue only along the firing line where their destruction is necessary for strategic purposes.

Reports of grave conditions of the beleaguered Port Arthur have reached Mukden, and the Russians here will not be surprised to learn of the capitulation of the fortress. The prevailing condition is that the reinforcements received by the Japanese have been much larger than reported and consequently it is expected they will attack.

Mukden, November 12th.—A coast-guard patrol penetrated as far as Shantung, where they delivered a blow against a large force of Japanese and then returned to the Russian main lines without loss. A patrol also went on to the rear of two Japanese companies moving to attack a Russian position. The coast-guard defeated the Japanese and returned safely to the Russian lines.

London, November 12th.—Confirmation has reached London of the rumors current on November 10th that Gen. Stoenel was asking for an armistice.

According to the Daily Telegraph's Chinese correspondent Japan has consented to open the port of Antung to steamers chartered by silk merchants when the latter hold special permits. This action is due to China's protest that the exclusion of neutral ships would ruin the silk trade.

ment where their bodies were discovered. One peculiar circumstance about the case is that while the bodies of the mother and daughter were burned to some extent, the apartment in which they were lying was not on fire when the firemen broke in; which showed that they had been killed in some other part of the house, partially burned, and then dragged into the room where they were found. Physicians are holding an autopsy over the remains of Julius Weber. The county officials are making a thorough investigation of the tragedy.

BUSINESS IS BRISKER

Yesterday was the busiest day Edmonton has experienced this fall. The Main street was fairly crowded with rigs. There were a very large number of farmers in with hay, oats and particularly wheat. This noon made itself felt on the city trade, and the merchants report a very busy day. Numerous Stony Plain farmers were delivering their wheat, taking advantage of the good roads and still more splendid weather. The hay market was particularly active, as many people are laying in their winter's stock of hay.

STURGEON VALLEY

A meeting was held at the house of Chas. Bremner at Sturgeon Bridge to organize a young people's literary society to be called the Sturgeon Valley Literary Society. The officers appointed are: President, M. Coughlan. Vice-President, S. Wray. Secretary, G. Warren. Treasurer, E. Hughson. A meeting will be held Friday, November 18th, at the residence of Mr. T. Lewis.

A SHOCKING TRAGEDY

AT AUBURN, CALIFORNIA

Whole Family Murdered and Their House set on Fire to Hide the Crime

Auburn, Cal., November 12.—It is now known that Julius Weber, his wife their nine year old daughter Bertha, and their son Paul, aged fourteen, were murdered last night by unknown assassins who set fire to their home in an effort to cover the crime. Before the fire had made any great headway the bodies of the woman and children were rescued from the burning house. Mrs. Weber and her boy were still alive, but died almost as soon as they reached the air.

The examination of the bodies showed that Mrs. Weber and the children had been shot before the fire had been started. On their heads were several deep cuts, and Mr. Weber also had been shot. All efforts to reach Julius Weber, the father, who was not thought to be in the burning house, were abandoned until to-day when a search was made in the burning timbers and his body was found in the bathroom of the dwelling. He, too, had been shot. This makes the death list as follows: Julius Weber, aged 43; Mrs. J. Weber 41; Bertha Weber, 19; Paul Weber, 14. The body of Mr. Weber was so badly burned that it has been impossible to ascertain how often he was shot. It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that the woman were killed in one room and their clothing set on fire, and that they were then dragged into the apart-

BORING OPERATIONS

FOR GAS AND OIL

On the Ross Flats, Gas is Issuing from the well which is now Three Hundred and Fifty Feet Deep

The site of the boring operations of the North-west Gas and Oil Company, just east of the exhibition grounds, Edmonton, is a very interesting place at present. Actual boring work has now been in progress about a week and the well is visited every day by numbers of persons who are interested in the enterprise of the Gas and Oil Company and are desirous of seeing the progress being made. The big ninety foot derrick can be plainly seen from the town and serves as a guide to the well. The buildings have been made very complete. They consist of boiler room, engine room and the work room at the base of the derrick. Although at present owing to the mild weather the buildings do not appear necessary, the approaching winter during which the work will be kept up will make a protection from the elements a necessity. The buildings are provided with electric lights and have connections with the municipal waterworks system from the exhibition grounds.

After one week's boring operations the well has a depth of 350 feet. The first hundred feet were made in good time but the work on the last two hundred has been somewhat slow as they are working through a bed of soft clay which delays progress considerably. So far little more than five feet of coal have been drilled through.

Gas is continually escaping from the well in considerable quantities which will explode and burn when lighted. This may only be a sort of march gas from the coal strata or it may be gas forced up in small quantities through the clay by a great gas pressure below. At all events it augurs well for the success of the Company's enterprise.

The gas indications are very similar to those found in sinking the Medicine Hat gas wells.

The boring operations are most interesting. It is continued day and night. Oil and gas experts are in charge of the work which is being and will be thoroughly carried out. A. W. Dingman, manager of the company is giving his personal and undivided attention to the work.

A fifteen inch drive pipe is now being sunk. This pipe weighs seventy-five pounds to the foot and over five tons of it will be driven before the 15 5/8 inch casing is commenced. The company have on hand in case it is needed four thousand feet, three car-loads, of casing. A very noticeable feature of the drilling plant is its compactness. Two men are at work and either one of them can operate the entire drilling machinery or the engine from his position at the foot of the derrick. He handles the actual work of drilling, although the word drilling seems to be a misnomer. A heavy piece of iron weighing three tons and having a circular head with charcoal sides is attached to a 1000 foot cable which circles the large pulley at the top of the derrick. This large weight acts as a sort of hammer. Water is poured into the hole and the clay is pounded into mud. When this operation has been continued for some time this machinery is taken from the well and a large iron pump is inserted and the mud removed. The operations will be continued day and night until gas or oil is struck or until the company satisfies itself that the well has missed them, for they feel absolutely certain that both gas and oil exist in very great quantities below this district.

Public Ownership of Telephones

Alberta:

The Calgary Board of Trade considered briefly at a meeting yesterday the question of public operation of the telephone.

It is no new or radical proposition. In Europe public ownership of telephones is the rule rather than the exception.

Sweden seems to be in the van in this direction. There the service rendered by the telephone is superior to any other country in the world, the service is superior and the terms to the people are ridiculously low. Besides, there is no deficit in this department of the public service.

Every subscriber is connected to the long distance wires which are a perfect network about the kingdom. A subscriber pays something less than $13.00 a year for the service. A person can enter one of the small booths on all the leading streets, and for a few cents can talk to any town throughout Sweden.

Sweden is in the van in this line, but wherever state operation has been tried it has been successful. Telephoning is a monopoly. It is one of the services in which competition is a decided embarrassment. As was pointed out in the Board of Trade yesterday the longer that action is delayed the more difficult it will be to accomplish.

CITY ELECTIONS

The first election of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Edmonton takes place on Monday, December 12. Nominations are made on the preceding Monday, December 5. A mayor and eight aldermen are to be elected by the general vote of the ratepayers. The Mayor holds office for one year. The four councillors receiving the highest number of votes are elected for two years, and the four receiving the lesser number are elected for only one year. Their successors are then elected for two years. At succeeding city elections a mayor and four councillors will be elected each year.

The present town council is made up as follows: Mayor Wm. Short; Councillors, Chas. May, Jas. Ross, A. T. Cushing, J. H. Picard, D. Grierson and D. R. Fraser.

As yet there have been no announcements of candidates for the positions either of mayor or aldermen, and the time is short in which to discuss the many important questions that necessarily come up for consideration under the new conditions of the city charter. Provision is made for the administration of the civic government by three salaried commissioners. Of these, the mayor is one by virtue of his office, and the other two are appointed by the council. The council also appoints the auditor, solicitor, engineer, and secretary treasurer. All other appointments, including the police, fire brigade, employees on the water-works, and electric light systems, are made by the commissioners, who also have the active supervision of the work, and are responsible to the council for the manner in which it is done. The commissioners also have charge of the assessment and collection of taxes. The administration of the civic government by a commissioner relieves the aldermen from the drudgery of personal supervision of work in progress, as chairmen of committees, and should enable men in the most active business life to accept places at the council board as they could not under the former conditions. While the new system provides for a more effective transaction of the public business than formerly, it also makes possible the overloading of the service with subordinate officials, provided the aldermen are not sufficiently disinterested or energetic enough to prevent. Of course the council votes all money and passes all by-laws, so that it has full control. But the removal of direct responsibility from the shoulders of the council makes personal favoritism in the civic service more possible than before. In proportion as the burden of detail is lifted off the shoulders of the councillors by the new arrangement, it becomes more important that they should be of a standing in the community that will ensure a single eye to the public interest. A weak council and a strong commission would mean bureaucratic government in civic affairs; but a strong council would ensure a good commission and an effective administration.

The new system of assessment, which is largely experimental, requires the best talent and the most disinterested service that the city affords. Although the commissioners have full authority in the matter, it goes without saying that the council constitutes, or should constitute, a court of advice and appeal, and would largely guide the commissioners in undertaking the somewhat difficult experiment.

Besides the many important questions connected with the working out of the new city charter there are questions of even greater importance to be dealt with by the new council. One of these is the street railway franchise. This franchise, granted by the present council in the early part of its term, calls for the completion and operation of two miles of the railway by the first of November next year. The understanding upon which the franchise was procured was that the work would be really finished this year, and much stress was laid on the large expenditure that would thereby be made. Instead of the work being finished, or nearly finished, while a nominal star has been made, nothing has been done except pile a few loads of gravel along one side of Namayo avenue. It is rumored that the company will approach the new council for an extension of time, in which to complete the two miles of railway that will save their cash deposit and give them final ownership of the charter. No such extension should be granted. The present council has passed without effort on the part of the company to fulfil their agreement. This is not an evidence of good faith on their part.

Another matter of great importance that the new council will probably have to deal with is the arrangements for the entry of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the location of its most important divisional point between Winnipeg and the Pacific. These matters require that men of more than ordinary standing and ability shall compose the first city council of Edmonton.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation cultivate 30 acres of his homestead and have besides 80 acres substantial fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

JUNIOR THISTLES

ORGANIZE FOR THE WINTER

A Bright Outlook for a most Successful Season for Edmonton's Junior Team

Edmonton junior hockeyists organized last night and start the season with every promise of a most successful season.

The meeting was held in the telegraph office and there was a large attendance. Besides most of last year's players, there was present some very promising new material to select from. Dr. C. J. Reid was appointed to the chair and the election of officers was proceeded with and resulted as follows:—

Patrons, Hugh Campbell, J. B. Mercer, S. T. Campbell, H. Aldridge and C. Gallagher.

Honorary President, A. C. Fraser. President, Dr. C. J. Reid.

Vice-President, J. C. Griffith. Secretary-Treasurer, Chester Bannard.

Manager and Trainer, W. A. Irwin. Executive Committee, Charlie Matheson, Laurie Gauvreau, Russell Johnston, T. G. Thompson and Harry York.

J. C. Griffith, who was present, announced that Robt. Hockey had given him permission to organize the Hockey Cup to the Edmonton Junior Thistles to defend. It will represent the junior championship of Alberta. This announcement was received with a great deal of satisfaction as it guarantees some good games in Edmonton this winter. It is understood that several other Alberta towns have junior hockey teams who are anxious to measure their strength against the Edmonton junior. The Strathcona juniors are talking organization and with the splendid rink which Strathcona is building, hockey should flourish as never before in Northern Alberta.

The membership fee for the Junior Club was fixed at one dollar.

Arrangements regarding pay nights etc., will be made with the Edmonton Senior Thistles at a later date.

What Would we Gain by It?

Farmers' Gain:

During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1931, Canada imported from the United States goods to the value of $144,000,000. The exports of Canadian goods to the United States during the same period amounted to less than half that sum.

On this bald statement of facts, or statements of a similar nature, we are being continually urged to submit to an increase in the tariff on goods which we buy from the Americans.

What would be gained or lost, by the adoption of the course proposed? To provide a full answer to this question, it would be necessary to give a complete statement of the articles imported from the United States, and the duty, if any, paid on same. This is impracticable in a newspaper article, but it is possible to give a few of the leading imports, and to show, from this statement, what the effect of a general increase in the tariff on American imports would be.

To begin with, it may be stated that nearly half our products from the United States come in altogether free of duty. Let us state some of the items going to make up the total of these free imports. The largest item is anthracite coal—$7,000,000. We have no anthracite in Canada—at least, none has yet been found. We are absolutely dependent on our friends across the line for a supply of this article, and to put a tax on that which is imported would be to increase the cost of heating practically every household in older Ontario. The next largest item is cotton and cotton waste—$4,000,000. This is used by our cotton manufacturers; it is their raw material. We protect these manufacturers against competition in their finished product by a duty on manufactured cotton. To tax their raw material, for which they are forced to go to the United States in any case, would simply have the effect of, to that extent, destroying the value of the protection given on finished products. Third on the list, in point of importance, come oilseeds' effects. American immigrants arriving in Canada in 1931 brought with them beans, and other goods to the value of five and one-quarter millions. It needs no argument to show the absurdity that would be committed in sending agents all over the Republic to induce immigration to our North-west, and then submitting the settlers on arrival to a customs tax on their furniture and other belongings. We also imported in 1931 three and one-quarter million dollars' worth of American corn free of duty. Our farmers brought in the raw product, and turned it into finished feed and bacon for the British market; to re-impose a tax on this corn would give the American feeders, who surplus feed and pork also finds an outlet in Britain, and who have free corn, an advantage over the feeders in this country. There was imported a little over $500,000 worth of machinery and structural steel for the building and equipment of beet sugar factories in this province. In order to encourage the building of these factories, the Ontario government pledged itself to the payment of seven and one-half thousand dollars in bounties on the sugar produced by them. To give with one hand in the form of bounty, and withdraw with the other in the form of customs taxation, should strike even the advocates of a policy of bounty giving and tariff protection as a little foolish. In addition to the items mentioned, there are a whole lot of smaller ones, running from a few thousands to hundreds of thousands which represent the importation of raw material, for partly manufactured articles, for the use of Canadian manufacturers in turning out their finished products.

A specimen item is that of $200,000, which represents the value of steel imported for the purpose of being turned into augers, files, scythes, etc., in Canadian factories. The duty on finished files is 30 per cent. To put a tax on the raw material, used in making these would involve in order to put the Canadian file manufacturer in the same position as he is now, an addition to the duty on imported files, and that would mean a heavier burden on the purchaser of the finished article. And the same argument applies to similar articles, covering pages in the trade returns.

Let us glance now at some of these American imports which are subject to a customs tax. We imported $8,000,000 worth of bituminous coal from the United States in 1931, and the taxes on same amounted to nearly $2,000,000. The great bulk of this coal is used by railways and manufacturers. It is part of the expense account which railways figure on in fixing their freight charges, and which enters into the calculations of manufacturers in adjusting their scale of prices. Every dollar of it comes in the end out of the pockets of the common people, and to add to the tax would add to the burdens now borne by the masses. The imports of railway engines amounted to $1,100,000, and the duty on the same to $380,000. This tax figures out at nearly a third of the value. To add to it would make more difficult than now compliance with the demand for reduction in freight rates. The value of the binders imported in 1931 was $1,000,000, and the duty $215,000. We must go to the United States for part of our binders in any case; with the rapid development of the North-West, home manufacturers cannot keep up with the demand. To increase this tax would therefore add to the taxation the farmer is now bearing. It would be felt with special severity in the North-West, and would render it more difficult for Canada to hold her own in the race which she has just entered upon with Argentina for first place in supplying the world's wheat market. The tax on $738,000 worth of builders' hardware imported from the United States was $111,000 on $543,000 worth of portable engines $135,000; on $607,000 worth of mowing machines, $122,000; on $303,000 worth of plows, $63,000; and on a million dollars' worth of hats, caps, etc., imported from the United States, the tax was $303,000.

Because the Americans buy less from us than we do from them, the government is asked to increase these and similar taxes. What would be gained by it? The government would thereby put it beyond the power of our farmers to buy three and one-quarter million dollars' worth of corn; would render it impossible for them to buy, as many implements as they do now; it might even curtail the purchases of locomotives by our great railway companies. All this would certainly reduce the volume of imports from the United States. But it would, at the same time, reduce the number of articles of convenience, of every day use, and of profit production with which our people are able to supply themselves, so that we ourselves would in the end be the greatest sufferers from the policy adopted.

LOCAL

Geo. Smith formerly of Port Elgin Ontario, has taken a position as night miller in the Dowling mill, Edmonton.

The old house formerly occupied by the Power House engineer has been sold and is now being moved to Ninth street, H. B. R.

Nearly all day yesterday light flakes of ice were drifting down the river and along the banks in sheltered places ice formations lasted all day.

The scales which had formerly been used at the city market are being taken to the Power House and will be installed there for the weighing of coal.

The new sidewalk from the foot of McDougall street at the Edmonton Hotel across the railway track and down the west side of Curriell street has been constructed and is a great convenience to the residents on the Ross flats.

Good progress has been made with the construction of the new malt house for the Edmonton Brewing and Malting Company. The brickwork has been completed and a large force of men are now employed laying cement flooring and doing other finishing work.

A water pipe is now being laid to the Edmonton Brewing and Malting Company's new malt house near their brewery on the Ross flats. The malt house will require a very great supply of water and the revenue will be sufficient to warrant the extension of the municipal system to serve the malt house.
